Paris (Special Service) -- Diplomatic circles here believe that the strengthening of the Hungarian Army by the USSR is a sign that the Soviet Army will eventually leave Hungary and that the USSR will sign an Austrian peace treaty.

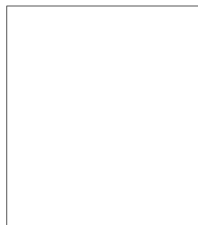

According to information received in Paris, the Hungarian Army will include ten divisions before January 1954. Military training has been made compulsory for all youths between 16-19.

There are three special schools in Hungary which train young men in guerilla warfare; present enrollment is 3,000. Of these, 500 are Greeks who were kidnaped during the Greek civil war. There are also Yugoslavs attending the schools.

Of the 46 Soviet air bases in Hungary, 11 have already been turned over to the Hungarian Air Force.

Every 6 months, 30 officers of the Hungarian armed forces are sent to the USSR for military training.
